From Father:

Christ is risen! He is truly risen! Alleluia!

Today, all of creation echoes with joy. The tomb is empty. Death has been conquered. The stone the builders rejected has become the cornerstone. Easter is not just the end of Holy Week—it is the beginning of everything new. It is the day that defines us as Christians. Without Easter, our faith would be in vain. But because of Easter, we have hope that no darkness can extinguish.

This morning, churches around the world are filled with light, lilies, and song. After the long Lenten journey—after the tears of Good Friday and the silence of Holy Saturday—we rejoice. But Easter is more than a beautiful celebration. It is a reality that changes everything. Jesus Christ has passed through death and come out the other side. And He invites us to share in that victory—not just one day in heaven, but here and now.

The Resurrection is not a metaphor. It is not a myth. It is a fact. And it means that no matter what we carry—grief, sin, fear, or failure—nothing has the final word but God. The empty tomb is a promise: that love is stronger than death, that mercy is deeper than sin, and that life, not death, has the last say.

I know some of you come to Easter this year with heavy hearts. Maybe life has been hard lately. Maybe your faith feels shaky. Maybe someone you love is struggling, or gone. If that's you—know this: Easter is for you. The Risen Jesus didn't appear first to the powerful or the perfect. He came to the ones who were afraid, confused, and broken-hearted. And He still does.

To all our visitors and those returning to church today: welcome! I'm so glad you're here. Whether you've been away for a while or this is your first time through the doors, please know you have a home here. The Church is not a museum of saints—it's a hospital for sinners, a family for the searching, a home for the weary. If you're looking for hope, for healing, for meaning—you're in the right place.

Let's not let Easter end with Sunday brunch or chocolate eggs. Let's live Easter every day. Let's be people of the Resurrection—people who bring light into darkness, peace into conflict, joy into sorrow. Let us forgive generously, serve humbly, and love without counting the cost.

Jesus is alive. And because He lives, everything is different.

Wishing you and your families a joyful, blessed, and grace-filled Easter!

Oremus pro invicem,
Father O'Donald

Happy EASTER
